VISIT TO A BRITISH NAVAL BASE.

FRUITLESS SEARCH FOR THE GERMAN FLEET

Furious Battles Between Montenegrins and Austrians.

ITALIAN STEAMER SUNK: 425 MONTENEGRIN RECRUITS ON BOARD.

[Reuter's Service to The "Telegraph."]

ITALIAN STEAMER SUNK.

200 LIVES LOST.

January 8, 2.15 p.m.
Reuter's correspondent at Cetinje states that an Italian steamer from Brindisi, with supplies and 425 Montenegrin recruits from America, struck a mine yesterday near San Giovanni de Medua. The vessel sank immediately, and 200 passengers perished.

THE MONTENEGRINS.

FURIOUS BATTLES WITH AUSTRIANS.

January 8, 5.00 p.m.
Reuter's correspondent at Cetinje states that a furious battle has been raging night and day on the Montenegrin northern front since the 6th inst.
The Austrians at one point hurled twenty battalions, supported by numerous guns and machine-guns, upon the Montenegrins, who retained the majority of their positions. The losses on both sides were heavy.

THE ALLIES IN THE WEST.

GERMAN FORTIFIED POSITION DESTROYED.

January 8, 5.00 p.m.
According to Reuter's correspondent at Paris, a communiqué reports a comparatively quiet night. Our artillery destroyed a German fortified position at Fontenoy, north of the Aisne.

OUR EVER-READY NAVY.

WAITING FOR THE GERMANS.

January 8, 6.25 p.m.
A representative of Reuter's Agency visited a station on the coast which is utilized as a base by a "Cat Squadron"—one of the centres from which our fleetest warships are ready to set out at a moment's notice on receipt of news of German movements.
The whole place presented a most busy spectacle. Submarines, which had just returned from a successful voyage, were lying alongside their parent ships unloading stores and torpedoes.
Reuter's representative also boarded a flotilla of most modern destroyers which had returned from cruises in the North Sea. The officers declared that despite the German boasts, they saw no sign of the German Fleet. Other features which were observed included a fleet of rapid motor boats, intended to chase submarines.
The station was the remarkable expression of the Navy to meet the German threat, and the readiness of the fleet to meet the German threat.

THE SUNKEN SUBMARINE.

WILL THE CREW BE INTERNED?

January 8, 1.45 a.m.
Reuter's correspondent at Amsterdam says that the British submarine (mentioned in yesterday's wire) was only sighted by the Noord Brabant after ten hours.
The crew are awaiting the decision of the Dutch Government as to whether they shall be interned. It is thought that this is unlikely as they are sailors in distress.

DUTCH GOVERNMENT'S DECISION.

January 8, 5.00 p.m.
Reuter's correspondent at Amsterdam states that the Dutch Government has decided to intern the crew of the British submarine which was reported sunk on the 7th inst. The decision is made under the Hague Convention.

GREECE AND THE BALKANS.

SIGNIFICANT DISCOVERY OF ARMS AT SALONICA.

January 8, 1.45 p.m.
A Salonica telegram says that a search at the Austrian Consulate led to the discovery of 180 rifles, 150 revolvers, with cartridges, explosives, Turkish uniforms, flags, and armlets bearing the Crescent, which were evidently intended to equip the Turkish rabble who would have been incited to murder and pillage in the event of the success of an Austro-German and Turco-Bulgarian attack on Salonica.

THE RUSSIANS.

AN IMPORTANT ADVANCE.

January 8, 3.30 p.m.
According to Reuter's correspondent at Paris, a telegram from Petrograd states that the most important news of the day is the Russian advance on the town of Kukhetzkavola, ten miles west of the River Styx, and situated at the issue of the Pinal marshes, constituting a strong strategic point, enabling the Russian right wing to develop an offensive on this sector.

SERIOUS RIOTS IN U.S.A.

TROOPS CALLED OUT.

January 8, 2.00 p.m.
Reuter's correspondent at Youngstown, Ohio, reports a serious strike and rioting, in which, up to the present, there have been three killed and nineteen injured.
The strikers, who are employees of a steel works in East Youngstown, began by setting fire to six blocks of buildings. Wholesale looting followed.
The situation is so serious that the authorities have decided to blow up East Youngstown bridge in order to prevent the rioters from crossing the river.
A number of the strikers, who became drunk on stolen whisky, seized 500 lbs. of dynamite and blew up several buildings. They are now threatening to destroy the residential section of the town. Troops have been summoned to the scene and numerous arrests made.

GERMAN EXCHANGE.

CAUSES OF THE DECLINE.

January 8, 2.15 p.m.
The Times is of opinion that the approximate cause of the recent heavy fall in the value of the German mark in neutral countries is probably the falling due of coupons on German Loans, of which there are foreign holdings. These have been increased by amounts in German War Loans taken up in the United States and Switzerland. The periodical dividends on payments will swell Germany's unfavourable trade balance, despite the fact that the cutting off of German trade would ordinarily tend to relieve Germany of the difficulty of providing against increased imports.
The Times adds that it should be noted that American sterling exchange has now passed the point at which the exportation of gold from London to New York would be profitable.

THE POLITICAL SITUATION.

GENERAL ELECTION DOUBTFUL.

January 9, 6.30 a.m.
The political situation is calmer. Talk of a General Election persists in some quarters, but it is generally believed that this last extremity is not needed and would only be adopted in the event of serious threats of labour troubles, and anti-Conscriptionists admit that an election would be disastrous to them.
Mr. Roberts points out that the vote at the Labour Congress was inflated because some delegates represented about fifty people, who, on a vote, counted as a thousand, as this is the lowest figure for a unit. He nevertheless considers the majority against the Bill a large one, due to the delegates having insufficiently digested the Bill.
Already some Labourites and Radicals are considering whether to modify their attitude on the second reading of the Bill.

January 8, 1.45 p.m.
The American Consul at Alexandria has cabled to his Government to the effect that Mr. Grant and twenty other passengers have made a sworn affidavit that no warning was given to the Persia before she was torpedoed.

SUBMARINE WARFARE.

GERMANY'S ASSURANCES.

January 8, 1.45 p.m.
Reuter's correspondent at Washington says that Germany's assurances regarding the Mediterranean affect liners, freighters and tramps. Previous assurances in the North Sea only applied to passenger liners, Germany assuming that there are no Americans aboard other vessels there.

AUSTRIA'S PROMISE.

It is stated that the Austrian last Note on the Ancons controversy gave identical assurances to those of Germany, and also agreed with the United States that small boats shall under all circumstances be taken to places of safety for the sake of passengers of a ship about to be torpedoed.

EARLIER TELEGRAMS.

SUVLA BAY OPERATIONS.

SIR IAN HAMILTON'S REPORT.

January 7, 4.00 p.m.
General Sir Ian Hamilton, in his despatch concerning the situation at Suvla Bay on the morning of August 8, the landing having taken place on August 6, says that Lieut-General Sir F. Stopford, recollecting the vast issues which hung upon his success in forestalling the enemy, urged his Divisional Commanders to push on, otherwise all the advantages of surprise on the landing must be nullified. The Divisional Commanders, however, believed themselves unable to move owing to the exhaustion of the men and the want of water. These objections were overborne by Lieut-General Stopford's resolution, but it was lack of artillery support which finally decided him to acquiesce in the policy of going slow.
Here Sir Ian Hamilton observes that when landing, hostile shores the infantry must advance and seize suitable positions to cover the landing and provide artillery positions for the main thrust with the aid of floating batteries alone. Then follows the passage that "driving power" was required.

AN ENQUIRY ASKED FOR.

January 7, 5.20 p.m.
The Pall Mall Gazette understands that Lieut-General Sir F. Stopford has asked the War Office for an enquiry into the Suvla Bay operations. It is believed that such an enquiry, if granted, will not be held until after the war.

Forty European and Indian policemen proceeded to safeguard Shatsukok Police Station.

THE MOTOR CYCLE CASE

Further Evidence.

The case was resumed yesterday, before Mr. Hazeland, in which Harry S. Komor, of 41, Robinson Road, is summoned for that he, on Sunday, December 19, having charge of a motor bicycle, unlawfully and by wanton or furious driving, did cause bodily harm to Mrs. Isaac Turner, at Wong-nai-cheong.
Mr. W. E. L. Shenton again appeared to prosecute, and Mr. H. E. Bellios (instructed by Mr. J. H. Gardiner) defended.
Mr. Archibald L. Struthers, second engineer of the s.s. Pat-ah-nan, said that he had been to the European cemetery at Happy Valley and was coming away at the time of the accident. He was with the previous witness Mr. Tarby. When he got abreast of the grandstand of the Jockey Club, a motor cycle with a side car, passed him, travelling on the right hand side of the road. It was going in the direction of Hongkong. About thirty yards behind, another bicycle passed them, this being on the left-hand side of the road. The second cycle was travelling at about 25 miles per hour. He heard no warning sound of its approach at all. The next thing he saw was some soldiers running, and an object lying in the road. The motor cycle went straight on. When he got to the scene of the accident he saw some soldiers lifting a lady up. She was taken into a house near by. He stayed at the house for about half-an-hour, but during that time he did not see the defendant return.
In the course of cross-examination, witnesses said that Mr. Tarby was good luck that Mr. Tarby was not knocked down, so close did the defendant pass. Mr. Tarby pushed against witnesses and remarked that he would "take the stick" to the defendant if he could get hold of him.
This was all the evidence taken in the case being again adjourned until January 21.

COMPULSORY SERVICE.

PROVISIONS OF THE BILL.

January 7, 3.50 p.m.

The Compulsory Service Bill provides that every Britisher ordinarily resident in Great Britain, from the age of 18 to 41, who is unmarried or a widower without children dependent upon him, be deemed as from "the appointed date" duly enlisted for general service and to be forthwith transferred to the Reserve. Exceptions are men residing in Great Britain for educational and other special purposes, men who are already in the Army or Navy, Territorials liable for foreign service, clergymen, and men holding exemption certificates granted by tribunals to be established under the Act.

Applications for such certificates may be made on the ground that it is expedient for national interests that the applicant be engaged on other work on the ground that the applicant has a dependent who would be without suitable means of subsistence, on the ground of ill-health or infirmity, or on the ground of a conscientious objection to combatant service.

Certificates may also be granted by any Government department after consultation with the Army Council to employees and men employed on work of national importance within the sphere of that department.

The holder of a certificate must notify any change in the circumstances under which the certificate was granted. The penalty for any omission to do this is £50, while the penalty for making a false statement to obtain a certificate is six months' imprisonment.

The Act comes into operation on a date fixable by proclamation within fourteen days of the passing of the Act. "The appointed date" will be the twenty-first day after the issue of the Proclamation.

While it is not stated officially, it is apparent that the unmarried men are availing themselves of the fresh opportunity to attest under Lord Derby's scheme and thus benefit by the group system. Those who do not attest become liable for immediate service.

DISCOUNT 20 PER CENT.

German Marks Drop to the Lowest Point Ever Quoted in U.S.

New York, Dec. 2.—Further depreciation in marks here to-day to the lowest rates ever quoted drew renewed attention to the anomalous economic conditions, which are said to prevail within the German empire.

Demand bills on Berlin and Hamburg, as well as other German centers, fell to 28½ cents, with cables at 78½ cents, as against 80½ and 86½ cents a week ago, and 81½ and 81½ early in November.

On the basis of to-day's quotations, marks, ordinarily worth 23½ cents here, have fallen to 19½ cents, which represents a discount of over 20 per cent from the normal rates of exchange. In substance, it required slightly more than 5 marks to-day to meet the valuation of an American dollar, whereas a little more than 4 marks formerly sufficed.

Dealers in exchange were unable to advance any definite reason for the steady decline in the value of German currency, mainly because of their inability to obtain first-hand information from German sources. One theory was that Germany's export trade is almost at a standstill, while her imports, particularly foodstuffs, are being obtained chiefly through Scandinavian countries, which are said to be offering German bills in this market to an extent in excess of demand.

Bankers with close German connections scout the idea that the drop in exchange has any bearing upon Germany's financial necessities, but regarded it rather as a reflection of that country's financial isolation.

article which he proposes to import or export.

23. Every permit and every licence obtained wholly or partly by means of any fraud or misrepresentation or inaccurate information shall be void.

24. Any permit issued under these rules may be expressed to be valid also as a permit under the Order of His Majesty's Council made on the 26th day of October, 1896, and under the Military Stores (Exportation) Ordinance, 1892-1915, the Certificates of Origin Ordinance, 1915, and the Declarations of Ultimate Destination Ordinance, 1915, or under any of the said enactments, and thereupon such permit shall be deemed to be so valid accordingly.

25. Every permit and every licence may be revoked at any time by the Superintendent of Imports and Exports.

26. The owners, charterers and agents of every ship which arrives in the waters of the Colony shall within 24 hours after such arrival furnish to the Superintendent of Imports and Exports in the form in the Third Schedule hereto a true and complete statement of all articles imported by such ship, provided that if the said statement cannot with all due diligence be furnished within the above mentioned time owing to the office of the Superintendent of Imports and Exports being closed it shall be furnished forthwith upon the next opening of the said office.

27. The owners, charterers and agents of every ship which leaves the waters of the Colony shall within 48 hours after such ship leaves the waters of the Colony furnish to the Superintendent of Imports and Exports in the form in the Third Schedule hereto a true and complete statement of all articles exported by such ship.

28. It shall be lawful for the Superintendent of Imports and Exports to grant exemption from any of the provisions of any of these Rules in any particular case.

29. These Rules shall come into operation on the 1st day of January 1916.

Then follows a lengthy list of persons to whom articles may be exported to China under the Rules.
